Personal or farming (career) information you'd like to share

I am the second generation of Michelini to be born in the United States. I am the third generation to live at the family farm with my wife Kim. We have 2 children Ryan and Danyelle. Ryan and I farm together where we raise corn, soybeans, wheat, oats, hay, seed corn, and cattle. We also stay active in community affairs and a number of charities.

Thoughts/Vision of the current state and future of Agriculture

The world is ever changing and the American farmer changes with it. With all the new technology in seed and machinery we still fall short of feeding the world which in itself will secure the future of agriculture and currently is helping agriculture to stay profitable. It has been a wonderful time to be a farmer and our future is full of hopes and dreams.

Thoughts/Vision of the future of Northern Partners Coop

The team at NPC has done a great job servicing the local farmer and his family. As agriculture and the world changes NPC needs to be there and change with it. The opportunities are there for NPC to be a local leader and a national player in agriculture and it appears that NPC has the team assembled to take advantage of the opportunities that lay in front of them.
