Watch our website daily for up to date bids, marketing programs, and daily comments. View links to other websites which hold valuable information. Sign up to attend meetings. Sign up for iView, our online account access. Our website is a useful tool which provides information that you can use daily.

iView...online account access iView provides the ability to access your account information when you need it, not just when someone is available at the office. Signup for iView is easily done through our website. Information such as your account balance, grain balances, sales contracts, and tickets listed by farm are all available on iView.

Direct Deposit

Direct deposit of grain settlements, commonly known as ACH, is available upon request. Why wait for snail mail to deliver your check?

E-Mail

To quickly send and receive important information, email has become something we access multiple times daily. Northern Partners would like to encourage the use of email not only for communicating, but for documents that can be viewed quickly and easily. We are currently looking at using email to send contracts and settlement information. This would provide for quick acknowledgement of business transactions. If we are not currently communicating with you via email, please provide us your address so we can get started.

Text Messages

If you aren't receiving daily market updates via Text Messaging and would like to, let us know and we can get you signed up and receiving messages immediately.
